

Old parts new Starts...off to a great start!

Only over a month old, the Urbanmine metal recycling campaign of crushing old cars with proceeds going to Habitat for Humanity is off to a great start! Urbanmine President Mark Chisick's goal to raise enough money in one year to build a new Habitat home is right on course by having raised over $6000 already! We ask everyone to get rid of those old junkers and help us make this goal a reality! For more information on how all this works, go to:

www.urbanmine.ca/erelease.htm

One of the many cars being crushed at Urbanmine