

What's New with WOMEN BUILD

On-Line Fundraising Tool

For all of you tech savvy people out there – we have the tool for you. Check it out! It even links to Facebook, or other social networking sites!

In the last e-Builder we let you know that Women Build must raise a minimum of $100,000 to build a home for Cynthia and her three children in 2009. At this point the committee has raised $10,000 so we have at least $90,000 to go as a house really costs us $150,000 to build. You can help!

CBC partners with Habitat for Humanity Winnipeg - Women Build as 2009 Media

Sponsor

Habitat for Humanity Winnipeg is very excited to announce CBC's Janet Stewart and Marcy Markusa as co-patrons of the 2009 Women Build.

Janet Stewart

Host: CBC News at Six

As the anchor of CBC News at Six, Janet Stewart contributes a wealth of journalistic experience, including many years of leading top-rated supper-hour newscasts, hosting adocumentary seriesfor CBC Television and working as an entertainment columnist for CBC Radio in Halifax. Since moving here from Nova Scotia more than six years ago, Janet has truly made Winnipeg home, along with her husband, Dave, and their pug, Albert.

Janet actively gives back to the community and is honoured to be a co-patron of the Habitat for Humanity 2009 Women Build.

Marcy Markusa

Co-host: Information Radio

Marcy Markusa is the co-host of CBC's Information Radio weekdays from 5:30 to 8:30 a.m. on 89.3 FM / 990 AM. Marcy and Terry MacLeod plug Manitobans into their morning in a way that only CBC can!

Marcy has been working in Manitoba as a broadcast journalist for over ten years. Born and raised in Winnipeg, she has strong roots in the community and strives to make every story relevant to the people who call our province "home." She hopes to connect to listeners with her warmth and sense of humour every morning.

Habitat for Humanity Winnipeg Women Build is looking forward to the media coverage that CBC will provide to raise awareness of the need for safe, decent and affordable homes for low-income working families in our community!

Thank you CBC!
